Joe Student

11135 Student Parkway • Baltimore, MD 21214 552.413.5201 • joes1@umbc.edu

Objective: To perform biological research where I can employ my analytical skills and science background.

Education: University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Majors: Biological Sciences, B.S.; Mathematics, B.S.

Certificates: Honors College.

Current GPA: 3.92/4.0; Expected Graduation Date: May 2016

Relevant Cell Biology Organic Chemistry Laboratory

coursework: Molecular and General Genetics AP Computer Science A

Multivariable Calculus AP Physics C: Mechanics

Differential Equations Statistics with Applications to Biological Sciences

Skills: Computer skills: Java, HTML, LaTeX, Atari, Microsoft Office: PowerPoint, Word, Excel,

Commodore 64

Language skills: Proficient in written and spoken French.

Lab skills: thin paper chromatography, gel electrophoresis, light microscopy, statistical analysis of genetics data, use of dialysis tubes, use of Bunsen and Meker burners, gravimetric analyses, calorimetry, ZipTipping®, Western Blotting, MALDI mass spectrometry, Edman sequencing, use of a desiccator, space controls, liquid extraction via separatory funnel, titrations, centrifugation, simple and fractional distillation, fluorescence correlation spectroscopy.

Work Honors Forum Team Leader 27 August 2012 – 10 December 2012

experience: UMBC Honors College Baltimore, Maryland

• Graded essays for and led discussion among a group of four-hundred thousand students

Summer Research Assistant 2 July 2012 – 24 August 2012 Protein Chemistry Lab, National Institutes of Health Smith Island, Maryland

Exhibited communication skills, leadership roles, and determination

- Exhibited scientific curiosity, organizational and presentational skills
- Ran mass spectrometry experiments and performed immunoassays

Extracurricular UMBC Astronomy Club member (Fall 2011 – Present)

activities: UMBC Biology Council of Majors webmaster (Spring 2012 – Present)

UMBC Honors College Council secretary (Fall 2012 – Present)
Boog Powell Appreciation Society member (Fall 2012 - Present)
National Society of Collegiate Scholars (Fall 2012 – Present)

UMBC President's Fellows Merit Scholarship